

RESIDENT UPDATE

Friday, 11 March 2022

Dear residents,

We hope you are all well. The South Bank precinct is slowly coming back online after the devastation of the recent floods. We are working hard in our flood recovery efforts and are nearing the end of our asset clean up and repair works. The clean up across the Parklands by Brisbane City Council continues with several sections of the Parklands still closed to visitors. For the latest updates on what areas are open in the Parklands, click here.

It's great to see so many of our retailers trading again and we are pleased to advise that the South Bank Car Park has reopened. For the latest list of restaurants open in the Precinct click here.

Thank you for your support and patience while we work on our recovery.

Take care.

South Bank Car Park is reopen

The South Bank Car Park is now open to residents and the public. This is a significant milestone in our recovery efforts.

Access is only available from the Southern entry (off Tribune Street). Please also note that all lifts are currently not operational due to ongoing flood repair works. Designated accessible parking bays will be available on Little Stanley Street. People requiring assistance are to contact the Car Park Team on 07 3867 2022 or see staff on arrival.

Car park security patrols will continue.

Medibank Feel Good Program – back up and running

City Parklands Services community wellbeing program, Medibank Feel Good Program is back up and running from Monday, 14 March until Saturday, 9 April. All classes are back except for Aqua which will return in the coming weeks with the Pools reopen. Due to Rainforest Green being closed for flood repairs, classes will now take place on Little Stanley Street Lawns and at Flowstate. Click here for the full program details
